Dr. Wilson Auctions Faculty Donations for All-Campus Drive

Dr. Curtis Wilson (standing) is shown auctioning faculty services and donations during the Faculty Auction, an outstanding feature of OCE's "Campus Carnival," the finale to the All-Campus Drive held during March 10-12.

Background posters advertise various booth attractions sponsored by campus organizations.

All-Campus Drive Yields $180. Auction, Carnival Climax Event

A fund totaling nearly $180 was collected for charity during the All-Campus Drive, March 10-12. The carnival, held March 12, collected a total of $88, with Collecto Coeds earning the most money, $17, with their "cake walk." The faculty auction, held later that evening, earned $73.

The drive, chaired by Phyllis Seid and Dr. Robert Mulder, faculty adviser, started with an assembly, Wednesday, March 10. Part of the high school visitation talent show and a movie, "Their Future Is Our Future," giving information on world student service, were included in the program with Elaine Rice as chairman.

Dr. Curtis Wilson auctioned numerous items donated by faculty members. A "ranch style" dinner for four, donated by Dr. Mulder, received the highest bid for the evening. Trips to the beach and Mount Hood, a picnic, flower arrangements, dinners, cakes, pies, and a camera were among the many things donated by the faculty. Ruby Taylor was student chairman for this event.

Booths at the carnival were: Cake Walk, Collecto Coeds; baseball throw, Phi Beta; side show, Alpha Psi Omega; dart throw, d'OCE-do; white elephant sale, Kappa Pi; penny toss, Theta Delta Phi; shoe shines, WRA; fish pond, Wolf Knights; and a popcorn stand, Staff and Key.

The carnival ended with the naming of the winners of the door prizes donated by Monmouth merchants. The junior-senior classes were tops in the class competition for donations and the total donated by the four classes was $6.70.

The drive is an annual effort to earn money for the various charities at one time. The major part of the funds raised will go to student organizations. Fifty per cent will go to World Student service, 15% to the polio fund, 10% to the Negro scholarship service aid fund, 5% to the Japanese International Christian university foundations, 10% to Oregon crippled children and 10% will be reserved by the student council for contributions to other organizations.

Two Speakers Now Secured for R-E Week, April 5-7

Rabbi Nodel and Dr. Francis E. Darts have been secured as half the team of four speakers to participate in the 1954 Religious Emphasis Week, April 5 through 7, at Oregon College of Education. The committee chairman, Edie Nielson, is in the process of securing the other two speakers.

Rabbi Nodel, who met with wide spread popularity at the 1952 R-E Week, will be the introductory speaker of this year's affair. Dr. Darts, professor of physics at the University of Oregon, comes to the college upon the recommendation of several individuals.

The three-day observance will get a grand kick-off at a 7 a.m. breakfast on Monday, April 5, at Todd hall and will continue through Wednesday evening.

CONSIDER CANDIDATE'S QUALIFICATIONS

There comes a time once a year at dear old Oregon College, when we need to clean house and dust out all the political and governmental cubby-holes. As with most any spring cleaning, we, with great remorse, are forced to throw out some of the old items which for some reason we find are no longer useful. Likewise, we retain those tried items found valuable and find new ones to take the place of the discarded ones.

As per usual, we enter into this task with reverence and fully cognizant of the seriousness of the task. In other words, it ain't nothin' to take too lightly, for the selection of student body officers reflects directly upon the student operation of the school for the next year.

It is our duty as students and, if we look at it, our desire and pleasure to take an active part in student body elections. Monday, April 5, there will be a nominating assembly presenting the opportunity for students to nominate individuals for student body offices.

We can take a big step in the right direction by doing a little considering and discussion before hand of the possible candidates and their respective merits in respect to the qualifications for the office.

There are a great many individuals to be considered for student body posts and undoubtedly there is one for each office which, considering all aspects, is best suited for the job. However the task of nomination is an important one and has prior claim over the voting.

Therefore, it would seem that we as interested students would come to the assembly with candidates for nomination. Individuals with whom we had discussed the possibility of their accepting the nomination and had found them willing.

Students have done a good job of house cleaning in past years and there is no reason why the stuffed shirts sitting in the stuffed chairs of the Oregon College student council of 1954-55 should not be of top-flight variety. You got it, now keep it, don't loose it, what is it? — YOUR VOTE!

Make Up Student Council

These four officers with the financial secretary, selected by student council previous to the election, and the 10 commissioners, will compose the entire student council.

The yell king and yell queen have as duties the promotion of school spirit and the selection of the rally squad during fall quarter. The yell queen will no longer assume the duties of Pep club president as in the past.

At a later election, April 28 and 29, the three candidates selected by the council for each commissioner office shall be voted upon. These commissioners are social, publicity, assembly, clubs, women's and men's athletic, and senior, junior, sophomore and freshman class commissioners.

Any additional information, either in selection of nominees, voting, or in official duties, can be further clarified by reference to the new ASOCE constitution.

Listed in the catalogues of the state institution as Psych. 261, it may be used by teachers and those who want to teach for credit toward certification.

JOB DIRECTORY AVAILABLE

Any student wishing to look through the directory is welcome to do so. It is on the table in the waiting room in the dean's office.

SHORTHAND CLASS SET

A shorthand class will be taught Thursday nights by Miss Seavey. All persons interested should attend the class at 7 o'clock in room 117 of the Administration building.

DISCUSSION FOR WOMEN

All women students are invited to attend a discussion at Todd hall on Thursday, April 8, at 7:30 p.m. Dr. Jessie Brodie will preside over the discussion which will be on "Sex." If you have any questions that you wish answered, leave them in a box in Miss Seavey's office or in Todd hall.

HI AGAIN, ALL YOU characters! Here you all are—back at the old grind again. Some of the profs are really giving their classes some 'dilleroos' in jokes to start the term, from what we can gather down here in the Rec hall. Dr. Albin's mental hygiene class got a kick out of his little lecture on love and all the traps in which a "poor defenseless man" could be trapped.

FOR INSTANCE, "Whiffenpoof" was given as the name of a new and potent perfume because a guy gets one whiff and Poof!! Also, his story about Herman — It seems his gal asked him if he loved her and Herman said "yes." but when she asked him if he would die for her he replied, "No, mine is an undying love!" Oh, yeah!!

WELL, SPRING HAS really sprung (finally). I can see from the roof of old Rec hall that Livvie's men of the horsehide and diamond are really warming up and Mac's cindermen are taking the kinks out. That's as sure a sign of spring as the regular work-outs of Mr. Ruckman's and Miss Moses' tennis teams. Here's hoping that the spring season will be as successful as it has always been in the past.

MAN OF THE WEEK is Mr. Hank Cedros — at least Dr. McClure might think so! Somebody goofed!! Mr. C., that's what makes people like him, hate people like you — when people like you are hateful to people like him. (In case some of you folks don't know what it is that we're a-talkin' about, why don'tcha up'n ast 'im?)

YOU KNOW, SINCE Portland State "Stole the Bell," it's been awful easy to believe almost anything about our dear sister "institution" . . . I guess that's why Squeak was so tickled when he found these daffy definitions in a PSC transfer's notebook:

Shotgun wedding — a case of wife or death.

An egotist — one who's always "me-deep" in conversation.

AH, YES!! SPRING HAS finally sprung, and now that the new term is well under way, Squeak and I would like to say—to all the new kids here at OCE, be they transfers (I hope they're from PSC), joint-degree, exchange, or brand new students in college life. Welcome to the best little college a-goin' . . . we hope you'll like it.

WELL, DEADLINE IS fast approachin' and Squeak 'n me are gonna try to get this crazy article in on-time this term, so you may think this is the end — but it's not, because I still want to remind you that Miss Moses' tennis II class which meets 4th period Monday and Wednesday has only five members, and she could sure use a few more.

NOW YOU WILL KNOW this is the end — but it's not. This is just a reminder to not let yourself get behind too soon this term. Hit the old books once in a while, o.k.? O.K.! Well, you may think this is the end — and it is. (Wa-hooooo . . . originality plus, eh wot!!) —D.M.K.

Vets' Village News

by Jim Riggs

Spring has sprung and another term has begun. The grass is growing and the weeds need hoeing. A little reminder to the Village residents: The rakes, hoes, and lawnmowers have been sharpened and oiled and are all ready for use. Let's keep the Village looking neat and trim.

Blackie Deaver completed his degree winter term and he and his family have moved to Powers to live during the summer. They will return to the Village next fall and Mrs. Deaver will be enrolled as a student. Blackie plans to teach in a nearby community.

Bud Michaels has also earned his B.S. degree. Since there are no graduate courses offered here spring term, Bud plans to work.

Three new families have moved to the Village. They are Mr. and Mrs. Dale Goodrick and family, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Link, and Mrs. Dale Love and Carol Rogahn. The residents desire to take this opportunity to extend a warm greeting to you.

Have you noticed the new apparatus on the top of Apt. 5-C? That's the aerial of Cummings' TV set.

Congratulations to Bob LeMond who was recently selected as the top male student at OCE. The excellent choice was made by faculty members of Phi Delta Kappa. He was honored at the Phi Delta Kappa breakfast held during the OEA convention in Portland.

Mr. Craven would like to know as soon as possible how many of the Village families plan to be here during the summer session so that he can plan accommodations for summer school students.

Around Todd's Halls

by Carolyn Jones

Hi, readers! Spring has arrived and so have the traditional flowers. While collecting flowers for the dining room tables, Mrs. Thompson got a case of poison oak which has hospitalized her in Salem.

At a house meeting last Monday night a new secretary and new floor representatives and social chairmen were elected. Freshman Sherry Ripple will take the secretarial position left vacant by Faye Love who moved off-campus.

Floor reps elected were Rosalie Harrold, Glenda Hamar, Bev Nicholas, Shirley Moser, and Ella Mae Swanson.

Marilyn Wilson, Anna Clair, Donnale Smith, Shirley Seid and Shirley Phelps were elected social chairmen.

Another decision made at the meeting was the extension of late hours to 10:30 for freshmen girls on week nights.

Eight new girls and one returnee have bolstered the total number of girls in the dorm this term. They are Eleanor Wolfe, Vacelia Vanikiolis, Arlene Snedden, Frances Thomas, Charlene Pederson, Shirley Payton, Naomi Hixson, and Joyce Aniker. Pat McQueen is the one returning.

Arnold Arms News

by Johnny Davis

The first house meeting of the term was held in the old hall last week. The major purpose was the election of the new house slaves er—officers. These started out with, quote, "I nominate so-and-so," followed by a "what have you got against me?" unquote. At any rate, the outcome was Dan Nowlin as chief cook-and-bottle-washer; Dick Harry, chief assistant and social-cooker-upper; Eldon Hickey, for take-a-note and chief money bags. The new reporter is yours truly.

Another problem brought up was that of noise, a thing which is unheard of around here . . . until after 10:30—but from then on.

Ye Olde Castle wishes to extend its formal welcome to its new member, Max Sherrell. Best of luck to you! Another 'hello' is extended to Dick Harry who is an old returning knight.

There has been some forms of interior decoration going on since the beginning of the new term. The greatest amount of this is in room 26. That's AA's version of second rear. (Please pardon the expression.)

A letter was recently received from our most recently lost member, Elmer Sankey. For those who are interested, he has a position at Taft with a fifth grade. Boy!

Another "welcome back" to Earl Hendrickson, who has been visiting the Dallas hospital for the past couple of days.

That's about all the gas, gab, and gossip for this week. By the length of this article you might think we have been busy.

Drama Dept. Display Honors Theatre Month

Alpha Psi Omega and Crimson "O" have prepared a display in the basement of the OCE library building in recognition of International Theatre Month, March.

This is the month in which colleges select plays for presentation which give insight into the life of people of other countries. Mr. Pim Passes By, a British comedy, was presented during this month at OCE.

The display includes cases having to do with the mounting of plays, lighting, scenery, make-up and costumes.

One case represents the American theatre; another has books and prints showing something of the heritage of the theatre; and a third case is devoted to college theatre productions showing prints of some of OCE's productions, programs from other colleges, and publications of interest to directors of dramatic activities.

Some of the programs of different Crimson "O" productions in the past, loaned by the Monmouth Herald, make up one case. A display of puppets has been contributed by the OCE art department.

'Anything Goes' Theme For Surprise Dance

Mysterious signs stating "Anything Goes," have been put up around the campus which have aroused much curiosity among OCE students. This is one of the spring projects which will be sponsored by Staff and Key under the co-chairmanship of Ann Hansen and Joan Forbes.

This project being planned by the women's service honorary is a dance, which will be a combination of all the school dances molded into a dance of a unique nature.

Plans for the dance include the ordinary dancing, plus unusual decorations and entertainment during intermission, and throughout the whole evening.

The secrets of the dance will be revealed when you attend. Watch for new posters which will indicate the time and the date.

OCE Alumni Attend Luncheon at Portland

OCE alumni met at a luncheon held on Friday, March 19, during the OEA convention in Portland at the Congress hotel. Bruce Hamilton of Roseburg, president of the OCE alumni association, was master of ceremonies. Dieter Werner, an exchange student at Grand high school in Portland, spoke on "A German Teen-ager Views America."

A committee from Parkrose school with Joe Meier as chairman, was in charge of arrangements. Entertainment was provided by a girls' sextet from the Parkrose high school. One hundred and fifty OCE-ans filled the Pompeian room to near capacity.

DR. McCLURE TO SPEAK

Dr. C. R. McClure, interim chairman of the OCE department of English, will discuss "English as a Language and Its Standards of Usage" during a panel analysis at Eugene on April 17 at the state convention of the National Council of teachers of English.

New OCE Constitution Ratified at Election

The ratification of the new ASOCE constitution was made possible through the election held in Maple hall on March 10 and 11.

Although there was a small percentage of the students enrolled who took part, a majority of 159 voted for the revision while only 11 were opposed to it.

Since the constitution has now been ratified, a handbook is now in the planning stage which will serve as an interpretation of the new constitution.

Gene Blair, chairman of the constitution revision committee, has now asked for any and all suggestions as to what should be included in the handbook. He would appreciate any suggestions as to what should be included in the handbook. He would appreciate any suggestions that would help the committee in compiling the handbook.

Teaching Positions To Be Filled in State

Mrs. Minnie Andrews, OCE placement director, was one of a dozen college placement people who maintained placement desks at the Oregon Education Association's convention in Portland last week. As a result, she has 67 new positions in 29 schools over the state on her list of vacancies to be filled.

Students on the campus, who are completing the three-year or four-year degree courses or who are meeting certification requirements by taking work here, are eligible for placement service.

The necessary registration blank and credential forms should be picked up at the placement office, Adm. 116, by those who have not already started their credentials. The sooner this is done, the better the service than can be given.

Faculty Play 'Harvey' Will Be Presented Senior Weekend

Harvey, Mary Chase's delightful and popular comedy, has been selected for the third annual all-faculty play, and rehearsals are already well under way. The play is to be given April 22 and 23 under the direction of Dr. Dorothy Stolp, instructor in speech and drama.

Mr. Francis To Play Lead

Harvey, the leading character, who is a rabbit six feet one and a half inches tall, never actually appears on stage, but he complicates the lives of the descendants of one Marcella Pinney Dowd who came to the middle-west by ox-team.

Harvey is the special friend of Elwood P. Dowd who is to be played by Mr. Henry Francis of the English department. Elwood's sister, Veta Louise, also sees Harvey on some occasions. She is to be portrayed by Mrs. Florence Hutchinson of the music department. Myrtle Mae, her daughter who has never seen Harvey and doesn't believe he exists, will be played by Miss Ermajean Hartle, supervising teacher at Independence.

The family friend and legal adviser, Judge Gaffney, will be portrayed by Mr. Matt Thompson of the mathematics department. Another old family friend is Mrs. Eugene Chauvenet. Mrs. Dora Scott, supervising teacher at the Monmouth Elementary school, will take this role.

Albin To Play Psychiatrist

At Chumley's Rest Home, an institution that takes care of people who see giant rabbits and animals of strange colors, Elwood and his associates meet Dr. Chumley, a famous psychiatrist, who is played by Dr. Floyd Albin, coordinator of education.

They also meet Dr. Chumley's wife, to be portrayed by Miss Lucille Millsap, supervising instructor at the Monmouth Elementary school. Chumley's professional associate, Dr. Sander-son, will be played by Dr. James Curtin, Independence Elementary school principal.

More of Cast Told

Miss Violet McFarland, supervising teacher of Monmouth Elementary school, will play a nurse, Miss Kelly, and Mr. Mort Howard of the Independence supervising faculty, will play Wil-son, an orderly at the rest home.

E. J. Lofgren, a cab driver who brings the family to the rest home, will be played by Mr. William McArthur of the physical education department.

The director will announce the production staff at an early date. Both faculty and students will work in that capacity. Students who are interested in doing crew work for Alpha Psi Omega points are asked to sign up on the speech office bulletin board.

McKenzie copped first in the century, 220, and broad jump, to share top honors of 15 points with Arnold. Arnold and Riggs were double winners, Bill taking the laurels in both hurdle events and Jim winning the 440 and half mile. Arnold also snared a tie in the pole vault and a third in the broad jump.

Cooke was the only double winner for the Vikings, with victories in the mile and two mile runs.

Frank Grove won the javelin toss, the eighth OC blue ribbon, and third spot in the high jump. Bob Andrews picked up a third in the 220; Wes Lightfoot snared a brace of seconds in the hurdles; Eldon Hickey, a pair of thirds in the mile and two mile runs; Jim Chapman, a second in the discus; Duane Reeder, a third in the shotput; and Bobby Lange, seconds in the distance jaunts.

Wind, rain, and a slow field kept times and distances high and low, respectively.

Spring Sports Crews Workout

Livingston, McArthur, Ruckman Prepare Squads for Season Openers

Last week hard practice began for the OCE thin-clads as the first track meet of the season was held Saturday, March 27, on the OCE track and field.

Coach Bill McArthur's returning lettermen: Capt. Jim Riggs, conference 880 champ; Bill Arnold, second place conference holder in the pole vault and hurdles; and Don McKenzie, who holds the 100, 220, and broad-jump titles, form the backbone of the team on the track.

Dave Haberly, javelin; Jim Chapman, discus and shot-put; and state "B" shot-put champ, Duane Reeder, hope to add strength to the field for OCE.

The new track and field at OCE has attracted the turn-out of many freshmen and Coach Bill McArthur feels that in the future Oregon College will become one of the strongest track teams of the conference.

The schedule for the season is as follows:

Mar. 27: PSC at Monmouth
Apr. 3: Willamette relays, Salem
April 10: Geo. Fox, PU, at Mon.
April 17: SOCE at Monmouth
April 20: Willamette at Salem
April 23: Port. U at Monmouth
April 30: Linfield, PU at McMinn
May 8: PU inv. at Forest Grove
May 15: Clark, PSC at Monmouth
May 22: Conference meet

PEASE PORRIDGE

With the advent of spring and the 1954 unveiling of Old Man Sol, it would seem that our thoughts would be turned entirely to those of love—ly green baseball diamonds, brown cinder tracks, and gray tennis courts. But that is not the case for we still have a few drops of basketball news dotting this week's page which ran over the edge of the winter term's full "bowl" of activities. By rights, we are not actually too tardy with this hoop news for the official finale of most endeavors in basketball for 1953-54 closed but a week ago on March 20.

We look with a great deal of approval and joy upon Southern Oregon's recent application to enter the Oregon Collegiate Conference. No action has been taken as yet, but it seems quite certain from here that the Red Raiders will be full fledged members come 1954-55.

And it seems quite right and beneficial to the OCC that they should join up with the Oregon loop. In years past they were associated with many of the same clubs which make up the current league in another set-up and even though for the past few years they have been a member of the Far West Conference, they have continued competing with Oregon schools. Also with the increasing size of Portland State, due to the four-year program, the Vikings will soon be too big for small school competition of the variety offered by the current loop members. So, 'twould be mighty nice to have Southern Oregon aboard. Incidentally, the Raiders have dropped out from the FWC.

We had a bit of a mix-up with copy this week and wound up minus a fine story from the the OC News Bureau, so we'll take

Working with a core crew of five returning lettermen and five other returning squad men from 1953, Coach Bob Livingston has been rounding his horsehide nine into shape for the the season's opener April 2 with the Pacific university Badgers at Forest Grove.

Captain Bob Frantz heads the group of five lettermen which includes Darrel Davis, Gene Owens, Clarence Grassman, and Ray Cummings. Ed Montgomery and Ron Rainsbury are also back from last year's squad as are pitchers Ray Nairn, Bob Jolma, and John Sutton.

Big worries of the diamond crew lie in the pitching and hitting departments with the 1953 graduation cutting deep into both categories. Though Nairn, Sutton and Jolma all are returning squad members, none of the trio has had a great deal of collegiate experience. Big stick work for the campaign is likely to come from Frantz, Davis and Grassman, but no one else is to be looked upon lightly in the hitting department.

Two injuries, one to Ron Rainsbury on a cut throwing hand, and the other to Junior Grassman, who bruised his shoulder in a collision in practice, will hamper the Wolves somewhat in a practice scrimmage with Linfield last Saturday.

The Pacific university clash this coming Friday afternoon will be a doubleheader with two seven inning games. There is no definite indication of a starting line-up for the two tussles with the battle still raging for most all positions. Recruits other than those already named are: Don Osborne, Don DeArmond, Bill Hicks, Fred Stanley, Larry Chamberlain, Stan Hayes, Rod Hales, Larry Jacobson, Dave Haberly, Hank Cedros, and Norman Robinson.

The schedule for the season is as follows:

Date	Opponent	Played At
April 2—Pacific	Forest Grove
April 9—Pacific	Monmouth
April 14—Clark J.C.	Vancouver
April 23—PSC	Monmouth
April 27—Willamette (2)	Salem
April 30—Port. U.	Monmouth
May 4—Portland State	Portland
May 7—Portland U.	Monmouth
May 11—Portland U.	Portland
May 13—Linfield (2)	Monmouth
May 18—Clark J.C.	Monmouth
May 22—Conf. tourn.	Monmouth opportunity here to announce some pretty well known facts. These facts being that Frank Grove was named "Most Valuable Player" by his 1953-54 hoop mates and Larry Chamberlain was voted as the 1954-55 team captain. A mighty tribute to both boys.

Grove, Chamberlain, Darrel Davis, Bob Frantz, Don McKenzie, and Charlie Pinion were monogram winners during the campaign just past.

TEACHER CAREER WEEK SET

Governor Paul Patterson has set March 28 to April 3 as teacher career week in Oregon. The Oregon Education Association has noted that Oregon needs 1500 additional teachers this year. One-half of the teachers are needed to replace retiring teachers and the other half to take care of the additional student load.

Tennis Coach Stanley Ruckman, boasting a strong core of veterans, sorely needs a few more aspirants to fill out his racquet team. Back for another whack at the sport are Ken Alberts and Verne Buhler, veterans of first line action.

Along with Buhler and Alberts, Frank Maxwell and Jim Dawson have been working out. Chuck Pinion, a veteran of the past seasons, and Akihiro Mitomi have seen limited practice. Pinion is doing his supervised teaching this term, which may limit his action somewhat early in the season.

Those wishing to try-out for the tennis squad should report to the tennis courts at 4 p.m. today or contact Mr. Ruckman or Verne Buhler.

Ruckman has had little opportunity to work with his team as yet because of the work involved in getting the new student teachers oriented.

Frantz, Grove, Pinion Named OCC All-Stars

Bob Frantz, Frank Grove, and Charlie Pinion were given all-star acclaim for their Oregon Collegiate conference hoop activities for the 1953-54 season in a vote of the league coaches early in March.

Frantz, along with Larry Pryse and Ted Schadewitz of Eastern Oregon; Don Porter, Portland State; and Jerry Wyatt, Oregon Tech, were voted to the first string OCC all-star squad. Grove and Pinion were named to the second squad along with Dale Stewart, Portland State; Don Sutphin, Oregon Tech, and Bob Adrian, Eastern Oregon.

Frantz, Grove, and Pinion, all seniors on the Oregon College hoop crew, were the three main cogs in Coach Bob Livingston's machine of the past year.

Pryse and Schadewitz, a transfer, along with Adrian were three big reasons why the boys from the East copped the league hoop bunting in a near walk-away.

Porter, one of the big scoring guns of the Northwest, and THE scoring gun of the conference, and Stewart sparked the Vikings in a late season surge that carried them into the second slot in the chase.

Wyatt and Sutphin are old hands at basketball down Klamath Falls way and with the former's work around the boards and the latter's work out front, the Owls managed a tie with PSC for second.

WRA Softball Practice Commences Tonight

WRA softball practice will start Monday, March 29, at 6:15. A short meeting will follow the practice to decide on a time for practice and for the intramural games. The executive council urges more off-campus women to participate.

At a recent meeting the council decided to join the Oregon Athletic Federation of College Women. The council will meet again to work on the new constitution Tuesday noon, March 30, in the P.E. building.
